January 2014

As we say farewell to the year 2013, we reflect on one of the most recent events of the year and think of the death of Nelson Mandela.

He was a man whose contribution to his country and life in general was huge, and had effects of world changing proportions. Let us hope that his legacy lives on.

Nevertheless we have to look forward to the year 2014 and January is usually the time for New Year's Resolutions. What are we going to do or not do this year, generally is the sole substance of our resolutions, ie. about ourselves.

Maybe we should expand our horizons and seek in some way to make the world a better place. None of us are likely to be able to match Nelson Mandela's contribution, but in a small way we can do our bit by going that step further to help those less fortunate than ourselves.

We may not feel that we can do much, but a little prayer will go a long way.

Best wishes for 2014.
